Felix Sebastian

Software Engineer

👤 Profile

I build web applications from end to end with a passion for elegant, user centred solutions.

💼 Employment History

Software Engineer at Culture Amp, Melbourne

October 2021 — Present

- Working on Culture Amp's market leading employee experience platform, focusing on the core product offering of engagement surveys.
- Utilising tech such as Ruby on Rails, React, MongoDB, Apache Kafka, AWS, Buildkite, Docker.
- Working with event-driven microservices architecture and event-sourced data storage patterns.
- Participating in discovery work, project planning, sprint planning, code reviews, pair programming and on-call roster.

Software Engineer at ActivePipe, Melbourne

June 2020 — October 2021

- Working on ActivePipe's automated email marketing platform for real estate agents.
- Utilising tech such as Ruby on Rails, React, GraphQL, MySQL, Elasticsearch, AWS, Cypress, Buildkite, Docker.
- Participating in sprint planning, code reviews and pair programming.
- Contributing to ActivePipe's custom design system bringing improved speed and consistency to their frontend development process.

Software Engineer at Eagle Software, Melbourne

August 2017 — June 2020

- Working on Eagle Software's CRM platform for real estate agents.
- Utilising tech such as Ruby on Rails, React, React Native, GraphQL, PostgreSQL, AWS, CircleCI, Docker.
- Participating in sprint planning, code reviews and pair programming.
- Participating in product design, solution design and establishing ways of working with react in Eagle's codebase.

🎓 Education

Bachelor of Computer Science, Swinburne University of Technology, Melbourne

February 2016 — November 2018

(Incomplete)

Details

+61 425 461 177

hi@felixsebastian.dev

Links

Website
GitHub
Twitter
LinkedIn

Skills

TypeScript

React.js

Object oriented programming

SOLID principles

Data structures and patterns

Ruby

Node.js

Relational databases

Functional programming

Hobbies

Reading, films, tennis